Version Issues. One of the key issues to be mindful of is that there are two new versions of MATLAB every year, one in the spring of that year (e.g., 2016a) and one in the fall (e.g., 2016b). Whereas changes in each release are incremental, over time, these changes do add up to transformational change. For instance, between MATLAB 2014a and now, the default colormap was changed from "jet ...
